Mighty Minneota
Both hoops squads still unbeaten & ranked No. 1

By Bruce Strand

What a winter it’s been in Minneota. At the end of January, both basketball teams are unbeaten. Not only that, but both have been ranked No. 1 in Class A since the opening tip and fended off all challengers.

There’s been just one close call. The Viking boys nipped Springfield 78-75 in a duel of unbeatens at home Dec. 29 when Springfield was ranked No. 2 (now No. 5). The girls have not faced any top-ten teams.

Being ranked No. 1 was no surprise and nothing new to the girls, who were state volleyball champs this fall, and placed third in the state in basketball last year, marking their sixth state trip since 2011, with a championship (2013) and runner-up finish (2014) in that run.

“We knew going in we might be sitting at the top spot, after we placed third last year and didn’t graduate anyone who played a lot,” coach Chad Johnston said. “And these girls are used to it from volleyball.”

The boys, though, are new at this, in basketball at least, as most of them are also involved in a wildly successful football program. Minneota has never gone to state in boys basketball. They came within an eyelash last year, losing to eventual state champion Russell-Tyler-Rutherton 71-69 in the section finals, finishing 24-4, with almost everyone back, thus the No. 1 ranking.

“The girls have gotten the crowds for a long time, but people are starting follow us more now, too,” said boys coach Dave Busselman, who had a 7-19 team three years ago. “Our first goal is to win our conference, which we have not done for a long time. Then to get back where we were last year, the section finals, and see what happens.”

The Viking girls are 16-0. Their closest game was 65-48 over Pipestone. They hold opponents to 39.8 ppg with intense man-to-man.

Lydia Sussner, 5-10 center who was a Miss Volleyball finalist for the state champions this fall, led Minneota to the state volleyball title, and the same group hopes to capture another in basketball.

Minneota: a winter to remember and four steals. She’s over 1,000 in career rebounds and 40 points from 2,000. “Lydia’s been the key to our offense since her freshman year,” Johnston said.

Abby Hennen, 5-9 sophomore, averages 14 points and often hits four or five 3-pointers in a game. Morgan Hennen, a strong 5-7 junior, is effective posting up despite her size and hits from the outside, too, averaging almost 11 points. They are sisters, and second cousins of the two Hennens on the boys team.

The point guard is senior Morgan Kockelman, who averages seven points and gets the toughest defensive assignment. At shooting guard is junior Lizzy Gillingham, speedy and a good leaper when 100 percent, but dealing with an ankle injury suffered in the state tournament. “She finally had a 20-point game the other night,” Johnston said. “She did that a lot last year.”

The Vikings go seven deep with sophomore guard Abby Rost and 5-9 freshman forward Natalee Rolbiecki coming off the bench. And incidentally, all seven were volleyball players. Johnston gave them three days off before putting them back to work.

The Viking boys are 17-0. Closest games other than Springfield were 71-62 over Westbrook-Walnut Grove, 78-69 over Jackson County Central and 85-70 over Lakeview. Their average score is 82-51, they are shooting a torrid 58 percent on field goals, including a lot of three’s, and they’ve held almost every opponent under their season average. They were eager to take on No. 9 Ortonville on Monday but the severe cold caused cancelation.

Thomas Hennen, a versatile, 6-4 senior in his third year as a starter with nearly 1,800 points, is averaging 23 points and leads the team in assists. The floor leader has been on fire since Christmas, averaging 26 points and shooting 66 percent. “Thomas is the guy that makes us go,” said Busselman. “He carries us.” The other senior starter is 6-1 Jared Josephson, who shoots well but sparingly, and is deployed as the defensive stopper, the coach said.

Logan Sussner, a burly 6-2 junior, Lydia’s brother, went over 1,000 points four games ago. Camping on the blocks and muscling the ball in, he’s averaging 16 points and 11 rebounds and helps perimeter shooters get open as defenses sag on him. The other junior starter is 6-1 Nolan Boerboom, who averages nine points and is capable of erupting for 20 more more.

Jacob Hennen, 6-3 sophomore, Thomas’s brother, blessed with the Coming off the bench are juniors Alex Saltzer (“He could start for any team we play against,” the coach said), Riley Buysse, and post backup Mitchell Rost. Buysse gives them good minutes after missing the last two seasons with knee injuries.

Minneota, a burg of close to 1,400 in the southwest corner of the state, is accustomed to autumn success. The football program is so strong — 13 state trips and seven state championships, most recently 2017, 2015 and 2014 — that this year’s 10-1, section runner-up season seemed almost like an off-year. The Vikings have gone 74-3 in the last five years. The volleyball program, meanwhile, has made 12 state trips since 2001 with six finals and two state championships.

The section finals loss in football (to BOLD) was a disappointment, but, with five gridders seeing action in basketball — the Hennens, Sussner, Saltzer, and Ross — it was tempered by not having to miss the first week of basketball practice, for once.

“That was a blessing, after the last four or five years,” Busselman said. “We were able to work hard on fundamentals on offense and defense that week, and it helped us get off to a great start.”

By the way, a school winning boys and girls basketball state title the same year been done a few times — by Hopkins in 2006 and 2011, DeLaSalle in 2012 and 2013, and Minneapolis North in 2003.
WHA’s Jim Lien joins short list of 700-win coaches

By Bruce Strand

Jim Lien’s name doesn’t appear on lists of all-time win leaders in boys and girls basketball, but that’s only because he has coached both genders. Between them, Lien is one of a handful of with over 700 wins.

The 700th came in early December when his Walker-Hackensack-Akeley girls defeated Kelliher/Northome 76-44. “What it means is, I’ve been coaching a long time,” chuckled Lien, a 70-year-old Vietnam veteran, and a coach for 45 years. “I really don’t pay a lot of attention to things like that.”

The Wolves, led by junior Bri Raddatz, who’s close to 1,500 points, they are 12-3, lifting Lien’s career total to 711, against approximately 380 losses. Only five boys coaches and two girls coaches have more than 700 wins. He has coached Nevis boys, Akeley boys, and, since 1988, WHA girls. The retired elementary teacher also serves Pacesetter Sports, owner of this publication, as a camp and tournament director for about 20 years.

“It was a pleasure to play for him, as he is an offensive-minded coach,” said Scott Kramer, Nevis boys coach. “A lot of what I do offensively comes from things we did way back when I played for him.” Kramer, who played for WHA, Bemidji State and two pro seasons in Europe, is one of Lien’s top grads, along with Ellen Kramer, who played for the Gophers; Byron Negen (Fergus Falls CC and Moorhead); Sarah Nagel (1,553 points for WHA), and Katie Benjamin, currently with St. Benedict’s.

The state tournament has eluded Lien through his career. “I had two boys teams lose in the region finals, as they were called then,” he said, “and two girls teams lost in the section finals.” He did have a state tournament team in volleyball, at Akeley in 1984, during a two-year stint in that sport. He was also head baseball coach for 30 years and was an assistant in football.

Lien played baseball, basketball and football at Westbrook. After attending Mankato State, and his Army duty, he started coaching at age 25. Jim and Linda’s daughter and son both played for him. Lindsey is a physician’s assistant for neurosurgery in Hartford, CT. Michael owns a hunting/fishing outfitter in Park Rapids.
Minnesota squad won five of seven matchups against Wisconsin in the Breakdown Sports Border Battle on Saturday at East Ridge High School.

Minnesota Valley Lutheran (14-1) beat Thorp 58-45, powered by Jake Kettner with 33 points (4-for-5 on three’s) and 12 rebounds. Dunwa Omot added 13 points. Isaac Soumis led Thorp (8-9) with 22.

Lake City (14-2) handed Clear Lake its first loss 73-54, with Reid Gastner hitting 27 points and Nathan Heise 23. Marshall Cain led Clear Lake (15-1) with 18 points.

Minnehaha Academy (12-2) won 76-60 over Onalaska (13-3). Jalen Suggs sank 27 points and Chet Holmgren 21 for the two-time defending state Class 2A champions. Carson Arenz led Onalaska with 18.

Rochester Mayo (10-5) lost to Waupun 94-68. Quintin Winterfeldt and Reece Homan delivered 22 points each for Waupun (13-1). For Mayo, Gabe Madsen poured in 31 points and Mason Madsen added 17.

Apple Valley (5-11) lost to Brookfield East 91-59. Riley Le’Tourneau dominated with 34 points for Brookfield East (12-1). Monty Williams and Mark Possis netted 12 each for Brookfield East.

Around the state
The high-scoring Princeton boys rang up a 113-77 win over Chisago Lakes (5-12) Friday. Adam Williams sank 27 for the Tigers (14-1). Reilly O’Neil had 15, James Flicek 14, Jon Stimmmer 13, and Tate Laabs 12. The Tigers have scored in the 90’s five times and in the 80’s four times. Thwy have five players averaging between 16 and 11 points.

Craig McDonald (right) of Minnehaha Academy chases a loose ball after knocking it away from Onalaska’s Jon Flanagan. Minnehaha won the Border Battle matchup 76-60.

Drew Gustafson of Kimball achieved his second triple-double of the season and the third of his career in a loss to St. John’s Prep 86-81 on Jan. 22. The 6-2 senior guard had 20 points, 10 rebounds, and 13 assists, along four steals. Gustafson, averaging 24 points, had a triple double in a win over Mora in December.

Hopkins topped Minneapolis North 84-66 on Friday. Zeke Nnaji, Hopkins 6-11 senior, sank 36 points (15-for-18 at the line), Kerwin Walton 17 and Jalen Dearring 16. The score was 38-38 at halftime with North’s Eli Campbell shooting 5-for-8 from 3-point range. Campbell finished with 16 points as did Nasir El-Amin.

Correction: There are two schools in Minnesota with a trio of 3,000-point scorers. In last week’s article about Roseau getting its third member we stated that they were the first school with three. Braham also has three: Isaiah Dahlman, Rebecca Dahlman and Tyler Vaughan.
Red Wing takes over top spot in 3A girls

The Red Wing girls moved to the top spot in the Class 3A rankings this week with a 16-2 record and a nine-game win streak that started with a 51-44 win over Waseca. That was the lone loss for No. 2 Waseca (19-1).

The Wingers lost to Mankato West and Rochester John Marshall in December, and squared accounts with Mankato West 84-68 on Jan. 22. They beat Northfield 59-49 in their most recent game, with Lindsay Reps notching 25 points, nine rebounds and four assists.

Previous No. 1 Hill-Murray (15-2) dropped to No. 3 after losing 51-39 to Simley (14-4).

Another McKeever record-setter

The McKeever sisters have single-game records at two different schools. Mariah McKeever, Ada-Borup West senior, pumped in 41 points as the Cougars (15-1) beat Hillsboro/Central Valley (N.D.) 75-30 on Jan. 24, sinking 14 field goals (four 3-pointers) and nine of 10 free shots. The Minnesota-Moorhead recruit topped the Cougar record of 36 that’s stood since 1992, by Kari Guttormson against Fosston.

Mariah’s sister Madison, now playing for South Dakota, led Win-E-Mac to a state championship and has the Patriots’ single-game record of 45 points.

K-W’s Scott: super game for Iowa State

Kristin Scott, former Kenyon-Wanamingo star, had a historic game for Iowa State, sinking 31 points without missing a shot, in an 84-71 win at Oklahoma State on Saturday. The 6-3 sophomore was 7-for-7 on three’s, 4-for-4 on two’s and 2-for-2 on free shots, while snagging 12 rebounds. Scott is averaging 13.5 points and seven rebounds for the Cycones (15-5). They drew 9,394 fans at home for their next game, Tuesday, with Scott shooting 8-for-12 for 22 points in a 105-66 win over Texas Tech.
By Bruce Strand

There are two main reasons the Eden Valley-Watkins girls are rolling into February with an 18-0 record.

On offense, the Eagles boast three players who have scored 1,000 points.

On defense, they are holding opponents to 30 points per game, the lowest of any girls team in the state.

Halle Jansen, junior forward, notched her 1,000 point during a win over Holdingford on Jan. 11. Previously joining that club were junior guard Olivia Kuechle on Nov. 29 against New London-Spicer and senior forward Emma Schultz on Dec. 4 against Holdingford. The program now has 16 girls with over 1,000 points.

Schultz is averaging 16.7 points, Jansen 12.6, and Kuechle 11.7. The team averages 63.3 points.

That defense is extremely stingy. Other than an 87-54 win over Melrose on Jan. 15, and a 54-40 win over Belgrade-Brooten-Elrosa Thursday evening, nobody had scored more than 36 points against them. No. 11 ranked BBE (14-5) has been their toughest opponent. The Eagles also beat the Jaguars 46-36 in December.

Coach Tom Jansen explains:

“We try to play sound fundamental man-to-man defense. We don’t have rim protection with shot blocking in the half-court set. Our guard, Halle Jansen, leads the team in blocks. We pick up the ball based on our opponents, sometimes full-court, sometimes three-quarter court, sometimes half-court.”

The other starters are junior guard Sawyer Kuechle and senior guard Olivia Schleper. Top reserves are junior Meryl Kuechle and three eighth-graders: Brielle Kuechle, Whitney Jansen and McKenna Moehrle.

For strong defense, it helps to have depth. Toward that end, the Eagles are deploying the eighth-grade trio. “We are trying to make them at least ninth-graders, figuratively, by the end of the season,” Jansen said.

The Eagles are hoping for their first state trip since 2006. The Eagle veterans posted 50 victories the past two years but fell short of state each time. They were 26-4 last year, and lost in the section finals to Tracy-Milroy-Balaton 49-48. The year before, they were 24-4 and lost in the second round of sectionals to Holy Family Catholic in overtime.
