MSHSL state volleyball champions

Wayzata, Marshall, again

Pequot Lakes, RTR nab first titles

Wayzata caps historic season

By Bruce Strand

Wayzata has moved up from perennial state champion mode to “was this the best Minnesota team ever?” mode, after rolling to their fourth consecutive state crown, capped by a hard-fought 25-20, 25-23, 26-24 conquest of New Prague in the Class 4A finals.

Best ever? It's hard to top their 2023 ledger. Led by three Division I players, two of them Class 4A Miss Volleyball finalists, they went 34-0, extended their win streak to 44, won 136 of 140 sets and, incredibly, their last 45 sets of the season.

CLASS 4A: Wayzata 3, New Prague 0

“It was a great night, but lots of tears at the end, too, now that it's over,” said coach Scott Jackson on WC-CO's Sports Huddle on Sunday.

Non-identical twins Stella Swenson (6-foot-2 setter) and Olivia Swenson (6-foot-4 hitter), both Class 4A Miss Volleyball finalists, will play for the Gophers, and libero Bianca Nistor is going to California-Santa Barbara. Another D-1 prospect, Avery Jesewitz, 6-foot-3 outside hitter, is unsigned. Stella Swenson, the Star-Tribune Metro Player of the Year, told the paper, “These are my best friends, and I'm so grateful to have played with them.”

Olivia Swenson smacked 14 kills. Katie Kelzenberg had 10 kills and five blocks. Stella Swenson made 32 assists. Chloe Lackas had 13 digs and Nestor had 12.

New Prague (27-5), coached by Greg Sayuk, moved up from Class 3A and went all the way to the 4A finals. New Prague (also the Trojans) battled Wayzata all the way. Avery Klein had 12 kills with Wayzata keying on her. Emerson Dillon notched eight kills, Annalise Wilson 25 assists, Klein and Wilson three aces each, Kira Brundage 14 digs, and Katie Broulonger four blocks.

The second set was knotted 23-23 before Stella lofted the ball to Olivia for a kill, then followed with an remarkable off-balance left-handed tap just inside the line for the 25th point. New Prague led 14-10 in the third set. Wayzata caught up at 21. It was 24-24 when the Stella-to-Olivia combo clocked one last time for the 25th point. Klein made a hitting error for the match point.

Wayzata opened against Edina, cruising 25-17, 25-17, 25-16 with 43 kills and 11 aces, led by Olivia Swenson with 13 and three. They dispatched Anoka 25-14, 25-13, 25-16 in the semifinals as Olivia delivered 14 kills and Jesewitz 11, with Stella making 29 assists. New Prague clipped Minnetonka 25-19, 23-25, 25-14, 25-13, powered by Klein with 22 kills, Emerson Dillon with 14 kills, Brundage with 23 digs and Wilson 41 assists, then swept Stillwater in the semifinals 25-11, 25-17, 25-18, again led by Klein with 19 kills.

Jackson reflected on the luxury of having two Swensons all four championship seasons: “They are great leaders, fiery competitors, phenomenal people. They are very different personalities. They have worked so hard at volleyball. It's been a great journey with them.”

Marshall re-tools and repeats

By Bruce Strand

Marshall finished the 2023 season in a very familiar spot -- state champions for the ninth time, and for the third straight season, each with a 3-0 finals victory. Marshall fought off Delano, also orange-and-black Tigers, 25-22, 25-13, 25-19 in the Class 3A finals.

CLASS 3A: Marshall 3, Delano 0

Dan Westby, who has coached all nine championship teams and two in girls basketball, said a whole different approach was needed this year, starting in summer sessions. "Last season, our team was just so big and physical they could just manhandle people at the net. Not the case this season. We had to look for other ways to get it done. We spent a lot of time stressing the serve-pass game. It's always important, but even more so with this team." They "peaked at the right time," Westby said. "I couldn't be prouder of how hard they battled."

He called Delano "a tremendous team. They just battled and scrapped and clawed."

The Tigers rattled off 42 kills against just 18 errors. Brielle Riess, 6-foot senior, battling a foot injury, knocked down 18 kills. Reese Drake added 10 and Morgan Bjella nine. Bjella made five blocks. Brooke Gillingham made 37 assists and served 20-for-21 with three aces. Kennedy Drake served 10-for-10 with three aces and made 18 digs. For the young Delano team, sophomore Cassie Wegman led with 10 kills. The Tigers made 12 blocks, led by senior Taylor Tool with four. Soph libero Kaelyn Wittwer made 22 digs.

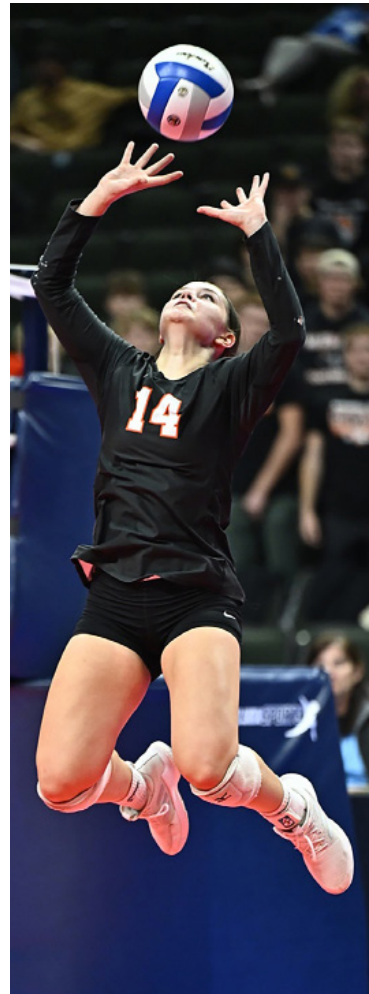

A key play in the close first set was freshman Laurel Ryks' but was in a boot Monday. "We're fortunate," Westby said, "that Brielle was able to fight through things and lead us in kills." In the second set, Riess had seven kills. In the third, Riess delivered five kills and a solo block during a 9-0 run opening a 19-11 lead.

Asked about Marshall's success, Riess cited "a really good coaching staff" along with their summer program and their dedication to the weight room, which "helps the team bond and makes us stronger for games." With the large turnover, she said, "We took it one game at a time. Every day, we got a little better and a little more confident." Riess and Drake were the only returning starters.

Marshall was 30-5, losing to Class 4A powers Lakeville South (three) and Champlin Park (two). They've won 3-0 in three straight finals, over Benilde-St. Margaret's in 2022 and Kasson-Mantorville in 2021. At state, they got past DeLaSalle 15-11, 15-11, 15-11, with 16 kills by Riess and 12 aces from six servers, and Detroit Lakes 20-25, 25-19, 25-13, 25-18. Riess had 20 kills and 17 digs. Bjella added 13 kills and Drake 12.

Delano, coached by Rebecca Rue, finished 29-5. After nipping Northfield in the section finals 29-31, 18-25, 25-19, 25-22, 16-14, the Tigers breezed into the state finals. They beat Mahtomedi 25-10, 25-15, 25-17 as Wittwer served seven aces while five players had between six and 10 kills, and Byron 25-22, 27-25, 25-16, with sophomore Sydney Pink swatting nine kills and Wegman eight.

This time, Pequot ends on top

By Bruce Strand

Pequot Lakes accomplished what few teams have been able to: finishing second one year, getting another shot and going out on top in their second try. In a Class 2A finals duel of two teams seeking their first title, the red, white and blue Patriots swept Rush City 25-18, 25-22, 25-22, capping a 30-5 season that included two harrowing, come-from-behind wins at state.

It was the fourth state trip for Pequot Lakes, which was 29-5 last year and lost 3-0 in the finals to Cannon Falls. They had four starters back. "The program kept building, and these girls finally did it," coach Chris Ganley told the Brainerd Dispatch. "All the past teams can be proud because they helped build this."

CLASS 2A: Pequot Lakes 3, Rush City 1

Ganley noted that the path to the finals was "hard fought." No kidding. The Patriots lost the first two sets in each of their first two matches -- leaving the Patriots with steely confidence and determination for the finals. "I think we all knew we had it from the start," Grace Hoffard said. "We went for every ball, every tip, every hit and just played our hardest."

Ella Kratochvil blasted 20 kills, including the 25th point twice. Hoffard added nine kills as the team logged 36 against just 13 errors. They served 70-for-74 with six aces. Aubrey Larsen made 27 assists.

Five players had double digit digs, led by Kelsi Martini with 18. "It seemed like they were in every dang spot that we were trying to kill," said Eric Telander, Rush City coach.

Hoffard, Kratochvil, Martin, and Isabel Larson were returning starters from last year's runner-up team.

Ella Kratochvil (14) and Grace Hoffard (10) block Rush City's Lydia Bengtson.

For Rush City, Lydia Bengtson swatted 15 kills and Ella Ferrie ten. Cara Sayotovich notched 33 assists and 15 digs, and McCanna Garr three aces and 22 digs,

The Patriots trailed 17-12 in the second set and rattled off nine straight points. Kratochvil got the final point, 25-22, with her ninth kill of the set. The Patriots trailed again, 12-6, in the third, then pulled even at 14-14 and pushed ahead 17-16. It was 22-22 before the Patriots took control for the last three points, with Kratochvil again blasting the final one.

Pequot Lakes was on the brink of elimination twice. In the first round, they lost the first two sets to Redwood Valley 24-26 and 19-25 and came back to win 25-23, 25-12, 15-6, powered by Kratochvil with 31 kills and 28 digs, Hoffard with 16 kills and Martini with 28 digs. In the semifinals, Caledonia beat them in the first two sets 25-21 and 25-19. The Patriots buckled down again to win 25-17, 25-23 and 16-14. Hoffard had 21 kills and 11 blocks, Martini 32 digs, and Larsen 42 assists, 18 digs and six blocks. Caledonia's Logan Koepke logged 29 kills and four aces.

Rush City, in its second straight state tourney after never getting there before, finished 30-3. The Tigers upset the top seed, Southwest Christian, in the semifinals, 26-24, 25-22, 25-19, led by Bengtson with 13 kills, three aces and seven digs. Autumn Stream notched 10 kills. Garr notched 18 digs and served 14-for-14 with four aces. Rush City opened with a 25-23, 25-19, 25-18 win over Annandale with Bengtson smacking 18 kills.

State newbie, RTR, is champ

By Bruce Strand

Russell-Tyler-Ruthton made the most of their first-ever trip to the state tournament, capturing the Class 1A championship. The Knights outlasted a state tournament regular, Mayer Lutheran, in the finals 25-13, 32-30, 17-25, 25-22.

“Refuse to lose, no matter what,” was the Knights mindset heading into state, said Tatum Ness, senior libero, to the Marshall Independent. “We had a lot of confidence going into (the finals) and I think we showed that.”

RTR coach Danica Brown, a former Knight herself (Class of 1998), heightened to “many generations from RTR” that battled hard but “haven’t gotten to this point.” She was elated that a huge group of alumni made the three-hour drive to cheer for the Knights, including 24 volleyball siblings who posed for a photo before the finals. “A great representation of the community’s support,” Brown said.

CLASS 1A: Russell-Tyler-Ruthton 3, Mayer Lutheran 0

The Knights, finishing 30-6, clipped the Crusaders with efficient hitting, 56 kills and just 22 errors, and serving, 94-for-98 with two aces, along with tenacious digging. Kill leaders were seniors Abigail Carr with 21 and Allyson Nolan with 15. Senior setter Gabreille Borresen made 49 assists. Junior libero Avery Schreurs made 23 digs, Borresen 16, Carr 15, and Ness 13. Dilyn Werkman, sophomore, made seven blocks and senior Camry Swanson made six.

In the 32-30 marathon, the Knights pulled into a 29-29 tie on Nelson’s seventh kill of the set (in 11 attempts). They edged ahead 31-30 on a Crusaders’ hitting error and finally wrapped it up with a kill by Werkman.

For Mayer Lutheran, Danica Martin blasted 19 kills and served 19-for-20 with three aces. Mari Buhr made 15 kills, Marley Martin 11 kills and six blocks, and Isabelle Keaveny 49 assists. This was Mayer Lutheran’s 16th state appearance, and they’ve collected four championships. The Crusaders finished 28-6.

To reach state, RTR broke Minneota’s dynasty in Section 3A of six straight years with three state crowns in that span. The finals was a meat-grinder with the Knights prevailing 15-25, 25-23, 25-16, 22-25, 27-25. Last year, the Knights were 28-4 with two losses to Minneota, including 3-2 in the section finals.

Aiming high this year, RTR assembled a challenging schedule. They split with Mayer Lutheran during the regular season and beat three 1A Top Ten foes. They lost to 3A champion Marshall, and to 4A’s No. 3 ranked Champlin Park. And, of course, there was Minneota.

At state, RTR won its quarterfinal over Pine River-Backus 25-18, 25-10, 25-13 with Carr and Nelson delivering 14 kills each and Borresen 31 assists. They topped New Life Academy in the semifinals 25-22, 25-15, 25-27, 25-17 as Carr had 16 kills and Nelson 13, Borreson 38 assists and Schreurs 27 digs.

Mayer Lutheran beat Ely 25-23, 25-13, 25-16 in the quarterfinals as Marley Martin notched 15 kills and Buhr served 24-for-25 with five aces. The Crusaders got past Mabel-Canton in the semifinals 25-14, 19-25, 25-14, 25-21 with Danica Martin delivering 20 kills, Marley Martin 13 and Buhr 10, while Keaveny delivered 44 assists and served 15-for-15 with three aces. Kinley Soiney smacked 21 kills for Mabel-Canton.

COMMENTS FROM COACHES:

We were able to cover a wide variety of skills and learned some new competitive drills too. Our MS & HS athletes were able to really push themselves and there was great improvement for all levels.

Louis Colletti - Balsam Lake, WI

I absolutely loved having Korie - the girls did as well. The knowledge she presented and the passion she has for the game was beyond expectations. She was very thorough in her explanations and even gave me ideas for different approaches.

Corbin Storbeck - Harvey, ND

I think Trevor did a great job - The girls really enjoyed it and they said they learned a lot and were challenged!

Lynn Neely - Wessington Springs, SD

The camp was excellent! The girls enjoyed having someone new come in to explain things in a different way. As coaches, we received a lot of new drills we can implement that the girls found fun. It was a great mix of skills development and fun for the girls!

Kelsey Muehlelt - Avoca, IA

Lexie was an amazing coach! She has a great knowledge of the game, has a wonderful connection with the players and really knows how to push each player.

Jill Olson, Lake of the Woods, Baudette, MN
